The long-awaited autobiography of one of golf's all-time greats will finally be available in September. This would make a superb Christmas gift for any golfing fan. Bernhard Langer is one of the best-known—certainly the most consistent and resilient—golf professionals playing today. He has hovered in the upper echelons of the game for over 20 years, and since 1980, he has only once been outside the top in the Volvo Order of Merit.

His fascinating story is one of conquering adversity. Despite growing up in a country where golf is a minority sport, he rose to become World Number One. Within that rise he has also famously struggled to overcome 'yip'—putting problems that dogged his career.

A devout Christian he formed and help runs The European Tour Bible Class and is respected throughout the sport for his faith and integrity.

This long-awaited autobiography is published to coincide with the 2002 Ryder Cup.
